

Mr. and or Ms. Trump supporter,

As you may have noticed, I have now stolen your sign a third time. I would have gone about my business as usual if it were not for one slight detail that I noticed as I stole your sign. It would appear that you have placed your sign 10 feet and 7 inches above its normal spot. This change in placement of the sign is the sole reason that I have decided to leave you this letter. You see, it would appear that you thought that placing the sign on a tree would prevent me from taking it. I am quite offended by this for many reasons. I can only believe that you thought that you were outsmarting me when you put the sign on the tree. This is clearly false, because there is no way that a trump supporter can outsmart anyone. People of your kind are in fact, the most dimwitted, low level, simpletons that any well-developed nation has to offer. I, and any other American who is against Mr. Trump, am better than you in every single way imaginable (especially in the areas of intelligence, reasoning, and problem solving). I short, I have once again taken your sign and will do so again if you decide to place it anywhere on your front lawn. Not even a great wall will stop me. Have a great day and above all, God bless these United States of America.
